TRUTH

We are in the midst of a media revolution as big as the one that happened when Gutenberg invented the printing press. According to the authors, it will contribute to major social changes and change the balance of power in society, but first and foremost it will change the way we communicate with each other. The opportunity lies to define the values of 20th century journalism and align this with the judging criteria of the Standard Bank Sikuville Awards.

CATEGORIES

All categories are open to newspaper print and online reporters. A maximum of three entries. Entrants are discouraged from submitting the same entry in multiple categories. In photographic features, a series of photographs (published as such) will count as one entry.

1. HARD NEWS

Journalism that is urgent, breaking news, typically written to tight deadlines and under pressure. The writing should be fresh, comprehensive, accurate and have high quality graphic description and pointed news salience.

2. COLUMNS/EDITORIAL

This category seeks to recognise distinguished editorial and column writing with a specific focus on clarity, consistent editorial style, factual accuracy, sound reasoning, persuasive writing and ability to engage and influence public opinion using ethical journalistic methods. Columns can include creative writing and humorous pieces which should be entertaining without becoming pure fiction. Attention will be given to the use of language, wit and cross-cultural sensitivity.

3. ENTERPRISE NEWS

This category entails news articles that are the result of proactive reporter enterprise. This category is distinct from breaking news, general feature articles and creative journalism and represents stories that are initiated from the newsroom. These can include data journalism projects which present "scoops" as a result of own-initiated projects.

4. FEATURE WRITING

This category recognises journalism that has entailed enterprise, investigation and persistence in gathering the information and which shows skill in telling the story. Feature writing may cover profiles, interviews, travel, trends etc. Quality of language, narrative skill, story structure and descriptive power of the features will also be considered in judging. Consideration is also given to analysis and background.

5. INVESTIGATIVE JOURNALISM

This is generally in-depth journalism resulting in scoops. Consideration will be given to research, perseverance, courage and innovation.

6. EDITORIAL CARTOONS

These are assessed for graphic imagery, originality, cleverness and political or social punch. Simplicity, topicality and humour will be considered. Entrants should motivate why their work scores on these criteria, and a maximum of five entries may be submitted.

7. GRAPHIC JOURNALISM

Info-graphics and illustrations are eligible. They should add value to a story, conveying meaning in a way that photos or text alone do not. Creativity and originality in concept, and the quality of execution will be considered. Clarity, vividness and communicative power are also factors. A maximum of five entries may be submitted.

8. POPULAR JOURNALISM

The winning story will be presented in a style that is simultaneously accessible, informative and entertaining, and its content will be about, and for, readers of tabloid journalism.

9. NEWS PHOTOGRAPHS

Published pictures of fast-breaking or spot-news comprise this category. Excellence in composition, lighting, action and other photographic qualities will be considered. The judges will assess both the original image and how it lent itself to being presented, and will therefore require a copy of both the original and the page on which it appeared.

10. FEATURE PHOTOGRAPHS

Published feature pictures that tell a story and which demonstrate reporting initiative are assessed under this category. Excellence in composition, lighting, action and other photographic qualities will be considered. The judges will assess both the original image and how it lent itself to being presented, and will therefore require a copy of both the original and the page on which it appeared.

11. SPORTS PHOTOGRAPHS

Published pictures taken at sports events constitute the distinctive subject matter here. The winning entries should show excellence in producing images that convey human drama and achievement, through techniques such as composition, the use of available lighting and the capturing of moments of action. The judges will assess both the original image and how it lent itself to being presented, and therefore require a copy of both the original and the page on which it appeared.

12. PRESENTATION - (Layout and design)

Content and headline treatment, the use of photographs and graphics and overall design will be assessed for clarity, readability and aesthetic attractiveness. The treatment as a whole will be assessed as journalism.

13. MULTI-PLATFORM STORIES

Writing for an online audience requires more than merely repurposing print content. This category seeks to honour reporters who present content for their online audience in a manner that recognises the medium's essential characteristics. The stories can be presented across various platforms including social media. Judges will review the effective use of the medium and platform, interactivity and user interface. The category therefore recognises publications which maximise their use of digital tools and platforms.

14. MULTIMEDIA STORIES

Beyond words, the online reporter seeks to tell the story with the various new media tools at their disposal to ensure an holistic storytelling experience. Special focus is paid to the quality of the multimedia presentation, its storytelling narrative and the appropriate use of the media to engage and inform audiences.

15. SOUTH AFRICAN STORY OF THE YEAR

No entries are accepted for this category; instead the judges will select a winner from the range of entries in the other categories. This agenda-setting and original journalism contributes to society by giving new insight into the changing character of South Africa. Evidence of impact - such as changes and reforms resulting from the work - will be taken into account. The winning entry may be drawn from the winners of the other categories.

16. YOUNG JOURNALIST OF THE YEAR

No entries are accepted for this category; instead the judges will select a winner from the range of entries in the other categories. To be considered, reporters should indicate whether they have less than three years experience. Judges will consider, among others, the potential shown for excellence, accuracy, story development and storytelling.

17. JOURNALIST OF THE YEAR

No entries are accepted for this category; instead the judges will select a winner from the range of entries in the other categories. Judges will consider the quality of work, originality, accuracy, ethical reporting and storytelling.

ALLAN KIRKLAND SOGA ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

The honour recognises a sustained and extraordinary contribution to newspaper journalism on the part of an individual. The winner will have demonstrated impeccable ethics and craft excellence. The results will have enriched South African public life. Where the person's accomplishment has been achieved in the face of obstacles, this will add to the nominee's ratings. This award is named after the historical journalistic figure Allan Kirkland Soga. Born in the early 1860s, he served as editor of Izwi Labantu (Voice of the People) between 1898 – 1908. Soga also helped found the South African Native Press Association in 1902 – the first African news service in Africa. He also wrote a regular column in Umteteli wa Bantu in the early 1920s. Historian Les Switzer describes the man as “undoubtedly one of the leading intellectuals of his generation”. Soga is remembered for the journalistic credo which he promoted: “Gainst the wrong that needs resistance; For the good that lacks assistance.”

RULES

1. The individual's accomplishment should have been over a career of at least 20 years in journalism.
2. Judges are not eligible for nomination.

PRIZE

The winner will receive the Allan Kirkland Soga Achievement Award Trophy and Certificate.

NOMINATION PROCEDURE

The nomination should be in the form of a written letter (or letters) of recommendation. The information should address the reasons why the nominee is deserving of this recognition. Additional supporting materials (testimonials/press cuttings) are welcomed. No entry fee or entry form is required for this award.
